LONG STOPS VOTE ON INCOME LEVY; HIGH RATE BEATEN

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON. WASHINGTON, May 16 .- (AP)-The billion-dollar revenue bill steamed by its first major contest in the senate today but encountered a Huey Long speech that consumed most of the first night session on the legisla-the first night session on the legislation.

A proposal by Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, to hike up the income tax rates to those of war days as an alternative to the special excise levies was rejected, 49 to 31, by the bi-party coalition backing the compromise bill.

After several hours' debate on an amendment by Senator Connally, democrat, Texas, to boost the income levies to the 1924 level—a step higher than the comparing that will be made against Mr. Crisp.

"Frankly, I am not inclined to get into a political controversy with Mr. Scarlett at this time, for it is somewhat early to become involved in the meshes of a campaign that does not conclude until the middle of September.

to the 195 level—a step higher than those provided in the bill—attempts to get an agreement for a vote were blocked by Louisiana's senator, Long. The discussion did bring a proposition, apparently favorably received on all sides, from Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, ranking democrat of the finance committee, for a showdown on the sales tax before the various excise and miscellaneous levies are taken up. But Harrison's suggestion for a limitation on debate on the income schedule was turned aside by Long, who said "one minute of Secretary Mills' time is more effective than an hour in my hands."

Long's "Urge To Speak."

Watson, of Indiana, the republican leader, offered another agreement for a vote, but Long said "I feel the urge to speak."

Standing in the center of the aisle most of the time, he spoke with many gestures, every now and then waving a hand through his curly locks.

Much of Long's speech was devoted to "wise cracking," which amused those in the galleries so much that twice the presiding officer had to warn them they would be excluded if order was not

Several times attempts were made Several times attempts were made to get unanimous consent for a time to vote, but finally Long said: "I'm through agreeing to anything now. I feel the urge to talk. I'm becoming convinced by my own logic."

Long chided Chairman Smoot, of the finance committee, and Senator Harrison, democratic leader, for suggesting the senate should adopt a bill as written by the committee, pointing out

Referring to Scarlett's statement that Governor Russell is to base his campaign largely on the administration of the fiscal policy of Georgia, Dykes said:

"He states that there is a vast contrast between the Georgia method of balancing a budget and that pursued by the national government, the cost of which, he says, was $700.000,000 in 1913. Mr. Scarlett should be more accurate in the use of figures. The fact that governmental cost exceeded $1.000,000,000 nearly 40 years ago is well known. The republican congress of which Tom Reed was speaker, was characterized as 'the billion-dollar congress' before Mr. Scarlett was born. But that is an unessential detail."

"Now as to the financial saving to which Mr. Scarlett refers as having been achieved by Governor Russell," Dykes' statement said, "the facts are that not one single dollar has been saved to the state and the balance sheet will show at the end of the year the government cost to the state for the government cost to the state for the year 1932 will be the largest in its history."

NORFOLK, Va., May 16.—(P)—
Federal agents and police, working on certain "loose ends" and clues here in the Lindbergh kidnaping case, are investigating the activities of six men arrested in Norfolk recently as alleged rum-runners, it was learned today.

It was in the diary of one of these men that the notation, "Lindy X. P. M." was found opposite the date, March 1, the night the baby was stolen from his crib. The men are not suspected of being connected with the kidnaping, it was learned, but are wanted for questioning concerning my information or clues they may have. They were released after police hearings here.

At the time of their arrest several weeks ago, police officials said the Lindbergh kidnaping case was kept in mind during the questioning of the six.

The compromise bill increases the advances made by the house to a schedule of 3 per cent on the first $4,000; 6 per cent on the next $4,000 and 9 per cent on income over $8,000, with a maximum surtax of 45 per cent.

Connally said his amendment would bring in $125,000,000 more than the

"How do I look to other people?"
If you have a lovely skin, attractive eyes, and plenty of enthusiasm, you need not worry.

So many women, though, risk their beauty by neglect of constipa-tion. It often causes loss of pep, sallow skins, dull eyes, pimples.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This cereal provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B which tones the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Special cooking processes make it finer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming. Surely this is safer than abusing the system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation.

educator's only comment was to Quirk to whom he said publicly: "I may be back to see you later."

The possibility the gang of baby killers might have themselves imprisoned for minor offenses was regarded with such favor by authorities that they dispatched letters to the governors of every state requesting that inquiries be made along this line. Salient developments in the day's official activities included: Colonel Lindbergh wrote to Governor A. Harry Moore expressing satisfaction and appreciation for the investigation conducted under the direct tion of Colonel H. Norman Schwarz kolf, state police head.

Governor Moore, who has followed the case intently from the outset, conferred with prosecuting and police authorities in determining matters of jurisdiction. He reiterated Colonel Schwarzkopf will have charge of all Offer Accepted.

The chief executive also formally accepted the renewed offer of federal co-operation tendered by Attorney-General Mitchell at the direction of the president. He expressed the thanks of the state for the assistance already with the convenient and indexed the state for the assistance already given by the government and indorsed the suggestion that J. Colonel Schwarzkopf telegraphed the treasurer of the United States at Washington requesting that further efforts be made to trace the serial numbers of the money which Dr. Condon paid to the extortionist.

Connally said his amendment would bring in $125,000,000 more than the committee rates.

Senator George, not aware that Al Smith had advocated a sales tax in a radio address, told the senate:

"I am opposed to the senate:

"I am opposed to the sales tax because it is an indirect tax. It breeds extravagance in government.

"I am opposed to it because the gross income has no necessary relation whatever to the net income, because it takes a higher percentage of the income of the poor and the average man than of the rich man, because the force back of the drive is to eliminate the graduated principle from our federal taxation, not immediately but ultimately because the nose of the camel under the tent virtually means the whole camel within the tent."

Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, inquired whether George had seen the "articles and editorials written by Arthur Brisbane, who receives a salary of $300,000 or $400,000 a year," adding: "He is the master mind behind the effort to get the camel's nose under the tent so as to get free from the income tax."

Support for the congress bill came largely from the west. The amendment would have raised surtaxes to a minimum of 65 per cent on incomes of $1,000,000 and over, while it would have hit the small taxpayer by rates of 6 per cent on the first $4,000 of taxable income and 12 per cent above that.

The story of the colonel's finances as related by the Brooklyn Daily Eagle was that a week before the body of his baby was found last Thursday, the colonel told an intermediary who visited him that he was "broke."

Colonel Schwarzkopf issued the following bulletin at 9 p. m.:

Further reports on William Allen have not as yet been received. The action of going to the woods at that particular point was initiated by Allen and not by his companion, and there was nothing to indicate that his companion, Orville Wilson, had any connection with the crime.

Rogues' Galleries Checked.

Mr. Curtis and Dr. Condon are still in the process of visiting rogues' galleries endeavoring to identify pictures of criminals as possible suspects in this case. This inspection of galleries probably will continue for several more days. In the course of these inspections, these gentlemen are with investigators on the case.

Morris Rosner did not give us names or descriptions of any of the men he thought to be kidnapers in this case.

Today, J. Edgar Hoover, of Washington, was contacted and arrangements were made to continue the excellent co-operation which has been so generously extended by the federal enforcement agencis.

O you inhale? Seven out of ten smokers know they do. The other three inhale without realizing it. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

Think, then, how important it is to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean-to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities!

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this much-avoided subject . . . because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Among the arguments assembled in the conferences were that the legislation would constitute a "class discrimination against the married;" would "encourage immorality;" and would "rob the dismissed member of the married pair of efficiency and seniority rights."

Instances were cited of several women workers who had eliminated marriage from the immediate plans of themselves and fiances; and of several others, with families back home to aid, who were seriously considering the "depression divorce" plan.

Mrs. G. E. Crow. 25, of Camp No. 133, Lakewood, was fatally burned Monday morning when a tin of kersosene caught fire from a charcoal burner and exploded, enveloping her clothing in flames. A heroic effort by Sanford Camp. of 26 Pecan drive, who was passing near the Crow camp and who heard the woman's cries, to-extinguish the flames saved Mrs. Crow from being burned to death at the camp. She died late Monday afternoon at Grady hospital.

The woman's husband was in the yard of their small camp, working on an automobile. He said the explosion set fire to the interior of the small frame house, and his wife, her clothing blazing, ran into the yard. He. Camp and K. A. Hindus, Moslems Keeping British Troops Busy as Rioting Continues.

BOMBAY, India, May 16 .- (UP) Looting was reported from all sec Looting was reported from all sections.

The communal differences between Hindus and Moslems are of long standing and frequently have led to rioting and guerilla warfare in recent years. The enmity is based on religious differences, but it has become an important political factor in India's struggle for independence from Great Britain. Savage attacks and counter-attacks among rioting Hindus and Moslems, interspersed with volleys of rifle fire from the ranks of British troops, raised the death toll to 61 today in the most serious communal strife of the most serious communal strife of recent years.

The streets of the native sections of Bombay were littered with the debris of guerilla warfare, murder, arson and pillage which has grown steadily worse during three days of rioting. Seven hundred and sixty-three persons have been injured. Hundreds of families are fleeing from the city.

British troops in armored cars and motor patrols roamed the streets in a concerted but futile campaign to suppress the disturbances.

There were many attacks on pedestrians in isolated by-lanes, victims were butchered by ruthless assailants, houses were set afire, and streets—sometimes for a distance of almost a mile—were ablaze.

The morgues were jammed. Hospitals were taxed beyond capacity and many wounded lay in the open.

Moslems repeatedly lay in ambush, waiting for unwary Hindus to pass by. When a Hindu appeared he was immediately attacked and sometimes fatally wounded.

Mrs. L. L. Christen, former Atlantan, died May 10 at her home in Lima, Ohio, where she had resided for many years. She was the sister of Mrs. A. W. Richards, Mrs. G. F. But both these chefs admit one thing ... the one and only difference between these two worldfamous products is in their flavor.

For both are identical in quality. Both are made in the same spotless kitchens. Both contain only the finest, purest ingredients . . . the freshest breakfast eggs, selected vinegars, special salad oils, and rare, imported spices. Then they are double whipped for extra creaminess.

And, moreover, both are absolutely free of certain cheap, inferior fillers which some mayonnaise makers have recently started using in a frantic effort to lower their prices. But this the makers of Best Foods and Hellmann's have flatly refused to do. These quality products remain absolutely uncheapened, absolutely unchanged.

So you see, the only difference between these two mayonnaises lies in their flavor. Hellmann's is well-seasoned and zestful. Best Foods is mild and delicate.

Now why not compare them yourself? Go to your grocer's tomorrow and get a jar of Hellmann's and a jar of Best Foods. Serve them

WASHINGTON, Ga., May 16.— Taxpayers of Wilkes made a formal demand upon local, state and national authorities for a reduction of the tax burden in a mass meeting here Sat-

As a means of making the demand effective, the organization of the Taxpayers' League of Wilkes County was perfected by the naming of William Wynne, as president; W. L. Johnson, vice president; L. E. Thompson, secretary, and C. H. Orr, treasurer.

The necessity of tax relief was vig-orously urged by banker, editor, law-yer, farmer and other meu of business, including the chairman of the board of county commissioners, who pledged the best efforts of county authorities in bringing about the objective of the taxpayers' league.

In a resolution, unanimously adopted, representatives in state and national legislatures were urged to join the effort for tax reduction; but the sentiment of Saturday's meeting put the emphasis on the elimination of extravagance and unnecessary expense in administrating the affairs of city, county and state; committees were county and state; committees were named to confer with authorities of each and report to a second meeting of the league two weeks later. The resolution follows:

"Resolved, That we, taxpayers of the county of Wilkes, in the state of Georgia, demand that our representatives in the senate and the house of representatives of the United States, our representatives in the senate and the house of the state of Georgia, our mational, state, county and city officers, at once commence the process of reducing the burden of taxation by eliminating every unnecessary exof reducing the burden of taxation by eliminating every unnecessary expense of government, and every extravagance in necessary governmental operations, by reducing the cost of every operation of government. The refusal of Herriot, outstanding figure in the recent left-wing election victory, to accept socialist demands for huge military reduction was the chief cause in the failure of the two powerful parties to unite on a program.

When Herriot's party won an outstanding victory in the elections, the radical-socialist leader was faced with Premier Andre Tardieu's center groups or with the socialists, headed by Leon Blun.

The most logical choice appeared to be the socialists until last night's meeting of Seine socialists, who were

UNIONS DENY SUPPORT FEDERAL BOND ISSUE URGED BY MINISTERS OF MORATORIUM PLAN

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(UP) A wide split in the ranks of railway union leaders over a proposed 25-rea moratorium on war debts or a "dole" was revealed at the White House to night.

A delegation of union leaders called on Mr. Hoover last week and recommended the moratorium as a measure necessary to hasten the economic recovery of the nation's railroads. They asked immediate relief for the unemployed or a "dole."

Another group appeared at the White House today, said they represented $2,00,000 rail workers, and in sisted the seven who made their demands last week spoke for only 550,000 employes. TUSKEGEE SINGERS CAPTURE HEARTS OF BIG AUDIENCE

The Tuskegee Institute choir and men's chorus' Monday night at the Wesley Memorial auditorium expressed in song the hopes, the fears and the poignant desires of a deepfeeling people. The music welled forth with the spontaneous beauty of a nightingale filling the skies with song.

a nightingale filling the skies with song.

The choir and chorus under the splendid direction of William L. Dawson rendered the negro spirituals with whole-hearted depth of feeling, singing "Nobody Knows the Trouble I see," and "Ain't That Good News,' among others. in a manner so entirely pleasing to the audience that encore after encore was begged.

But it was "Deep River" that most completely captured the hearts of the listeners. The opening, with the voices carrying the melody by humming, seemed an orchestra of violins singing softly, plaintively—then the choir picked up the tempo of the song, singing as one voice a solid mass of exquisite rhythm.

The male chorus sang "I Tramping," and "I In His Care-O," among other selections, most appealingly. Without a doubt the concert was one of the finest to be heard in Atlanta in many a moon.

Greatness Steals on a Man Unawares, While He Is Busy at a Great Job -By Robert Quillen-

Personality is defined by New York University as the sum total of an individual's qualities as they affect other people.

And students are told that 15 per cent of the individual's success in business is due to technical knowledge and the other 85 per cent to per-

Both definition and measure of value may be correct, but personality is not a thing that can be taught in schools. It is acquired only as happiness is—without plan or studied effort, as a sick man prospecting for gold unwittingly gains the greater prize of

Any conscious effort to acquire personality must fail, as a young

our chat May 29, 1930, we said When a doctor talks about immunity he is generally trying to tell you how to get it. When he talks about resistance he is offering nothing but discouragement or a helpless regret. Resistance is merely a vague theory or fancy without specific or definite application to any known disease.

Immunity is well recognized and at least fairly well defined state with specific application to some disease and when the term is used without specific reference to some disease such as diphtheria or typhoid fever the person who uses it doesn't know what he is talking about. There is no application to any known disease. What can the Belgian government do under the circumstances? The crisis is world-wide. The very idea of "resistance" is a pessimistic one. Did you ever hear of a physician assuring any one in advance that his "resistance" is good and therefore he has nothing to fear from the prevailing epidemic? You did not. But any good physician can tell anybody at any time whether he has enough immunity to make him reasonably safe from diphtheria, and reasonably safe from diphtheria, and any good physician can immunize any one against typhoid fever. spirit of international brotherhood? In an interview in the New York Times he is quoted as saying:
"The first essential of world peace is tolerance and by tolerance I mean consideration of one's neighbor, and by neighbor I mean other peoples. Without tolerance there is no liberty ... I should say that the only complete factor making for tolerance has been art. It knows no fanatic, either in religion or nationalism. The true time of peace; to find out how they live, think, love and suffer and to get a picture of them as human beings such as will keep us from believing infamous things of them at the behest been art. The present year marks the centenary of the death of Goethe, one of the greatest international spirits in the history of literature. It is a familiar story but it will bear repetition—how Goethe was once accused of being a "slacker" because he would not write songs of hate against the French in time of war. "How can I write songs of hate," he asked, "against a nation that has done so y much for the culture of the world? I have composed love songs only when I have loved. How can I write songs of hate without hating?"

One of our best-beloved Georgia writers, Joel Chandler Harris, wrote a great deal on the theme of what he called "neighbor knowledge" or a necille and sectional animosities might be discouraged. He held with Goethe, with Tennyson, with Hauptmann, with Grandler Harris, wrote a great deal on the theme of what he called "neighbor knowledge" or a necille "neighb est in the promotion of world peace have composed love songs only when I have loved. How can I write songs of hate without hating?"

The story goes that Mirgimola, who had betrayed his master's trust, sought to get back in the good graces of Aurungzebe's father, Shah Jehan, by offering him a diamond weighing 787 carats, which since been known as the Great Mogul diamond. It has, however, often been confused with the Koh-i-noor, which is oval in shape but which does not, at close range, resemble the Mogul. The latter is about an inch long and three-quarters of an inch wide, with the corners not sufficiently rounded to become an oval but too much so for the stone to remain a rectangle.

PLEN-T-ICE less than 5° a meal/

BEFORE offering it to you, we tested the Plen-T-Ice plan for nearly a year in one city. We wanted to be certain that the plan would really give our customers all the satisfaction and the comfort we believed it would.

At the end of that year we asked the women of that city to tell us what they thought of it-and this, from scores of letters, is what they wrote:

"This plan is ideal and superior to all other methods of refrigeration . . . places perfect refrigeration within the reach of everyone . . . I hope the Ice company shall see fit to continue . . ."

MRS. J. W. MANN "I now get ice over the whole year for the same money I had been spending in the summer months

Glover's dismissal was asked in the house by Representative Fulbright, democrat, Missouri. Other democrats in both houses assailed his speech to the Missouri postmasters' convention.

Republican leaders remained silent in the face of the attacks. No one attempted to defend him in the senate, but in the house, Representative Dyer, republican, Missouri, contended Glover was not urging the postmasters to support Hoover's re-election, but merely asking them to "support him in these days and times."

Meanwhile Glover stuck to his guns and asserted he "had a perfect right to tell the postmasters to work for Mr. Hoover if he wanted to."

Glover said he was correctly quoted in urging the postmasters to "go out on the firing line" for President Hoover's re-election, and telling them if they did they were "filling" their jobs.
Only presidentially appointed postmasters were present, Glover said, contending there was no law forbidding them to work for the re-election of the man who appointed them.

HAINES H. HARGRETT LAID TO FINAL REST

Final tribute was paid Monday afternoon to Haines H. Hargrett, prominent Atlanta attorney and income tax expert, who dropped dead Saturday afternoon at his residence at 139 Brighton road, Brookwood, the victim of a heart attack. Services were held at the First Baptist church in Tifton, Mr. Hargrett's boyhood home, with Dr. C. W. Durden and Dr. G. S. Gibson officiating. Interment was in the Tifton cemetery.

Prominent Georgians served as pall-bearers and honorary escorts were formed by members of the Atlanta and Georgia Bar Association. As an added mark of respect for one of the state's most noted lawyers, the Fulton superior courts, city court of Atlanta, and the criminal court of Atlanta, and the criminal court of Atlanta were closed during the hour of the funeral.

Among the members of the Atlanta Bar Association who formed an escort at the rites were Mac Asbill, J. A. Branch, Frank Carter, W. Colquitt Carter, John Dennis, Cam Dorsey, W. A. Fuller, B. P. LABOR "WET" WORKER HERE TO AID MEETING

M. L. Lefkowvitz, special representative of the national labor committee seeking modification of the prohibition laws, arrived in Atlanta Monday from Washington to assist the Women's Organization for Prohibition Reform with plans for the mass meeting to be held at the city auditorium on Wednesday night, May 25.

Mr. Lefkowvitz, former secretary of the Musicians' Union, asserted that labor is attempting to do its part in relieving the present economic stress. "Labor," he added, "believes in modification of the Volstead act, and further believes the people should be permitted to vote on the question of repeal. The eighteenth amendment has been in effect 12 years. It is unfair to tax the people of the country in an attempt to enforce an unenforceable law when all we are doing is financing big racketeering interests for criminals and gangsters."

High Praise For New Treatment Is Being Heard All Over City

Nearly everybody in Atlanta is talking about the sensational new vitamin iron and copper treatment, Thor's Vitamin Compound. Everywhere one goes he meets some one who is taking the new treatment or hears of somebody who has been remarkably benefited by it. "We have one customer who took the new treatment with such success that he has bought half a dozen bottles more for his friends," stated one well-known druggist. "The new treatment is making friends faster than anything we have ever handled."

Mrs. May Connolly, popular resident of 617 Parkway Drive, tells of a typical experience with the new medicine as follows:

"When I started on it my stomach and nerves were all to pieces, and my system seemed literally saturated with toxic poisons. I felt like I had a big lump of lead in my stomach and sometimes the smothering sensation from indigestion was so bad I had toxic pains all over my body, suffered almost constantly from ter-fifty cents.—(adv.)

1928 of Alfred E. Smith for president was "the best referendum that can ever be devised" on prohibition was made tonight by Dr. Clarence True Wilson.

Speaking before the quadrennial temperance and prohibition rally of the Methodist general conference, at which a letter from Henry Ford indorsing prohibition was read, Dr. Wilson said the drys "should insist that there shall be no referendum on this question until the wets put out a substitute which they think better than prohibition and let the merits of the two systems be examined.

"If they cannot do it," he said, "they are not ready for a referendum. They are not ready for a referendum. They should wait until they have something to propose.

"The Methodists of the world are not afraid of a referendum on the liquor question. They are used to it."

Dr. Wilson, who is chairman of the Methodist Board of Temperance, said the dry forces would countenance a referendum on prohibition only if it were strictly according to the constitution.

"All the wets have to do," he said,
"All the wets have to do," he said,
"All the sets have to do," he said, "co-operation in its enforcement."

work. And last but most important, fear God and keep His commandments."

These rules Captain Dollar kept with tenacity. He was Scotch by birth, the son of a lumber dealer. His father took to drink after the death of Robert Dollar's mother, and the young man determined that he would never drink liquor. Ships of the Dollar lines sold no liquor.

While still in his adolescence, Dollar left his home for the new world, and eventually found his way into the lumber business. This led him to shipping, as he needed carriers for his lumber. He made his first venture in that line by sending the 8,500-ton ship Arab to China in 1901.

The report will be made formally before the general assembly of the Presbyterian church. United States, by its committee on closer relations, at Montreat, N. C., May 26.

at Montreat, N. C., May 26.

Although there is no difference whatever between the two churches in doctrines or methods of work, the committee report said, the two groups have agreed "to continue the status quo in co-operation till Divine Providence opens the way for still closer relations, in the meantime cultivating mutual esteem and brotherly love for each other in Christian fellowship."

The committee on closer relations of the Presbyterian church, United States, is headed by Dr. S.-L. Morris. of Atlanta, as chairman.

LESS THAN $20 RAISED

IN DRIVE FOR BEAVERS

Efforts by friends of former Chief of Police James L. Beavers to raise a fund of $250 to reimburse the retired chief for money he spent personally in engaging counsel to prosecute his recent charges against A. Lamar Poole, suspended detective chief. Monday met with indifferent response from a majority of the force, according to reports. Less than $20 had been raised during the first day's efforts.

Chief T. O. Sturdivant, in a letter to members of the force, had suggested that inasmuch as no funds were available officially to care for the prosecution costs, the officers at headquarters might subscribe to the refund merely as a personal token of their esteem.

Mothers of children, have you been able to cling to your ideals of beauty in spite of the relentless effort of poverty and hard work to prize them from your grasp? If you haven't you will read this letter from a farmer's wife sympathetic understanding.

"I am a farmer's wife with all that implies, hard work, poverty, intimate contact with the earth and wit hanimals, a 24-hour-a-day struggle to make earth and animals yield a living for my little family. Above and beyond this struggle is another that I am losing: The struggle to hold on to ideals of beauty, to niceties of living, the struggle to raise the children in such a way that they will not be embarrassed when they go off to school and are thrown with the children of people that have had easier living conditions. In the beginning of my married life, when my husband and I had only ourselves to support, this was a delightful adventure, just like an extended summer picnic. But when the children began to come and there was neither money for servant hire nor strength to nurse, cook, clean and garden, I began to fall in slovenly habits, to neglect the little things of beauty in order to accomplish the things of necessity. I am in despersate need of inspiration to pick up the lost threads. Can you give it?"

The scientists may continue their never ending argument about the theories of heredity and environment but while they argue every woman should bear in mind this simple fact: She cannot make a happy home nor one held in affectionate regard by the children in after years unless she has built into it some ideals of beauty. Children may admire their mother's capacity for hard and productive work. They may even be grateful to her for what she has provided them, but they love her, and cling to her, and are tender toward her in proportion as she has beautified and poetized and spiritualized life in that home. Particularly is this true in later years when those children have grown up and learned to evaluate life, when they are far enough rmoved from parnts and home to see them in their true perspective. Think of your own experience and note how the pleasant memories of your childhood always cluster around some incident, some scence, some relationship that breathes beauty.

I have in mind a man who was raised on a tiny backwoods farm, where the struggle for existence was a never ending one, a 24-hour-aday fight with poverty. I never heard him speak of his youth without a reference to the fact that no matter how much hard work his mother had to do, no matter how many sacrifices she had to make, she always had a garden with bright flowers in the summer, and a pit of green and growing plants in winter. He frequently made reference to his childish indignation at having to hoe and water young flower plants at the end of a hard day's plowing. Yet he always ended by saying that his most precious memory of his mother was her refusal to let the ugliness and the hardness of her farm life crowd out her innate love of beauty.

There is no gainsaying the fact that this woman is unusual. She has enormous physical strength and endurance. But the secret of her success lies not so much in her physical strength as in her vigorous mind. She reads. She thinks. Surely these are two luxuries the poorest may afford.

Most of the inspirations that have come to men and women have been set down on the printed page for those that come after. Most of the conceptions of beauty, most of the aspirations after beauty, and most of the struggles for beauty have been recorded. If one's own thoughts are sterilized at the source, if one's spirit is bruised by rude contact with realities, if one is denied the inspiration of human contacts, one still may have recourse to books. In the inoughts of others one man find refreshment of mind, renewal of vital forces, new thoughts for old.

The brightest fire will go out if it isn't replenished with fresh fuel. The biggest stream will run dry if the supplying waters are cut off. The healthlest body will waste away if it is not nourished. Likewise inspiration and ambition will wither and die unless they are full careful. CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

After this homily, I am going to give you the story of what my friend, or love you the story of what my friend, or less the "luckiest hand." It was played in a championship event recently, between Dr. Shelly and his partner and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Jones, of Philadelphia. While they did not know of it at the time, these two pairs were contesting against each other for first position. This is the "luckiest" and which Dr. Shelly calls the "luckiest" and which decided the event;

2—The correct response.
3—Incomprehensible.
4—Perhaps a little optimistic, but then the doctor felt lucky.
Mrs. Jones, unwilling to lead away from the tenace in diamonds, decided that the North and South bidding had shown such complete control of the trump suit that a trump lead could do not harm. Therefore, she opened the spade 6. The Ten in Dummy was played and Mr. Jones refused to cover, so another round of spades was led and finessed, the King falling on the third round. After disposing of sulting in his unsound did of two clubs, followed by his effort to "get from under" by giving his partner an unwarranted Raise in spades, was the first factor in the lucky result. The second factor was West's holding in diamonds, which made a lead in that suit appear undesirable and a lead of a trump not harmful. That both of these events should have occurred simultaneously, unquestionably was lucky, but the cards themselves, obeying immutable mathematical laws, had nothing to do with the cases.

Yankees Defeat Indians and Tie Consecutive Shutout Record CRACKERS TURN ON CHICKS HERE, 9

Will Somebody Please Extract Rabbit From the Southern League Ball?

Five home run rattled off the plank seats in the republican grandstand Monday afternoon as the Crackers and Chickasaws opened a series at old Ponce de Leon park. And just before the game the Crackers were moaning about the home runs in the Nashville park on Sunday-seven of them over the fence just 262 feet away.

The three Cracker and two Chickasaw home runs traveled much farther, going more than 318 feet to make them look more legitimate. But five home runsthey all joined in proving that the Southern league baseball, which the officials ordered, is livelier than ever be-

There is no truth at all, however, in the statement that a rabbit was found sobbing over one of the balls in the ouffield, claiming he recognized a part of his long lost cousin in the ball.

The fans, however, are saying "Phooey" on so many nome runs. They are a dime a dozen in this day of the lively ball. And no, novelty at all.

The Crackers, however, rejoiced in their four-base slaps just a short while after moaning over the Nashville brand. Which proves once more (as if it needed it) that it's different when it happens to you.

THE MEMPHIS SUPERSTITION.

Doc Prothro, one of the most successful and popular of the minor league managers, walked on the field Monday with a red baseball in his hip pocket. For a couple of years now the Memphis Chicks have been carrying around a red baseball for use in infield practice. And it was dismissed as an idiosyncrasy,

But I find that it wins games for the Memphis Chickasaws. It licked the Pelicans twice on Sunday. It is, they say, less potent anywhere else.

Doc Prothro explained the origin of the red baseball yesterday while waiting for the game to begin. It was made for New Orleans.

"We went into New Orleans two seasons ago with a losing streak on our heels," he said. "We had to do something. So one of the boys took some stuff and painted the ball red. The bleachers noticed it when we used it in infield practice. And we won that day. And ever since then, when we really want to beat Nw Orleans, we get out the red ball.

"Last Sunday I heard one of the colored fans yell, "Uh Oh, the po' ole Pelicans is sho gonna get licked to-day. Dere's 'at ole red ball."

Prothro thinks the red baseball has become interesting Profitro thinks the red baseball has become interesting enough to bring in quite a few fans. It is a subject of conversation with the Pelican fans, especially the colored ones. "Baseball has got to combine something of a show with the game today," he said. "And the red baseball is just a small act but it helps out in New Orleans."

CHICKS BELIEVE IN IT.

Memphis ball players believe in the ball when they get to New Orleans. Ball players are very superstitious.

Babe Herman, one-time Cracker and Brooklyn star of the season as the Cincinnati Reds of Haines City, Fla.; J. B. Royal, E. Lucas allowed but three hits, two of them in the first inning, Fredsie of them in the f

Babe Herman, one-time Cracker and Brooklyn star and now with the Reds, always squirts tobaco juice on the knots in his bat. And claims it gives him luck. Eddie Collins, one-time star, always stuck a wad of gum on the top of his cap. Jimmy Hamilton, when he was managing, always reversed the ends of bats in the rack when the club wasn't hitting. Most every ball player has his pet superstition or bit of black magic which he employs to help get base hits.

Jack Dempsey always wore the old white sweater he wore before the Willard fight in which he won the title. That is, he almost always wore it. The night of the second fight with Tunney he left it off and lost a fight quite a lot of people think he won. Johnny Dundee wore a bathrobe for so long the sleeves were all used up as patches because the thought it brought him luck. Pete De Paolo, great speedway driver, always tied his first child's first pair of shoes to the chassis of his racing car. That bit of "business" has been lifted for a race picture, "The Crowd Roars." Most of us have some little gesture—such as putting the right shoe on first or getting into bed from the same side of the bed each night.

YE OLDE BULLE PENNE.

Hap Morse, of the Dallas club, has rigged up a shanty with a stove in it for the benefit of his relief pitchers in night games. Once they work up a sweat they go in and sit by the fire and keep sweating. There are just lots of pitchers who pitch as if they were hot-house plants. The idea, however, is a good one-if it makes the pitchers feel any better.

I have never had it satisfactorily explained to me why night game is hard on the players. But perhaps it is.

WHAT WILL BARNES DO?

In the past every Cracker cast-off has come back to plague the club. Especially is this true of cripples who could not play. Jim Poole, Ivy Griffin and others are fair samples. On Thursday Red Barnes, recently sold to Little Rock, will appear with the Travelers. A bad ankle kept Red from hitting or fielding with Atlanta. The boys are betting he fields 1.000 and hits .500 in the series here.

LISTEN, JACK MALCOM.

As a loyal Georgian I still insist that Brunswick stew is as good as burgoo. In fact, Marshall Verner tells me the recipe for burgoo is the same one the old-timers used for Brunswick stew. But any dish that can have a race hoss named after it must be good. And so, Jack Malcom, I'll be at the police barbecue and burgoo feast on Wednesday. This fellow J. T. Looney must be a great fellow to come all the way here to help out. And so sell a thousand more tickets and let's give him and his burgoo a great reception.

New York Scores Four Straight; Gomez Gives Five Hits.

By Henry McLemore.

NEW YORK. May 16.—(UP)—With talented Senor Lefty Gomez's slamming them across with much zest and more effectiveness, the New York Yankees blanked the Cleveland Indians, 8 to 0, today, thus tying the American league record for consecutive shutouts.

The league record for successive shutouts is four, established by the Indians in 1903, and tied by the Boston Red Sox (honestly!) in 1906.

Senor Gomez allowed but five hits. He was in danger of being scored upon but once. That moment of anxiety came in the seventh inning when Vosmik and Morgan opened with singles. The good senor bore down, however, forcing Kamm, Sewell and Montague to lift easy flies.

GO TO WORK. After picking up two runs on Hudlin in the third, the Yankees went to work in earnest in the sixth, pounding Hudlin and his successor, Pearson, for five hits and six runs. Three of the five hits were doubles by Chapman and Gomez, and a triple by Combs,

Gomez, and a triple by Combs,
Sam Gray, of the St. Louis Browns, turned in an even more striking performance than Gomez in setting the Washington Senators down with three hits and shutting them out, 2 to 0.
While Sam was toiling so manfully, his mates managed to grab eight hits off the offering of the Messrs. Monte Weaver and Alvin Crowder.

Walker Meets Winner of Title

NEW YORK, May 16.—(UP)—Mickey Walker, former middleweight champion, and the winner of the Max Schmeling-Jack Sharkey heavyweight title bout, will meet in a championship fight in 1933, the Madison Square Garden Corporation announced today.

A tentative contract was signed today by Jack Kearns, Walker's manager. It provides that Walker shall be in proper condition six months hence, at which time a subsequent contract requiring a $25,000 forfeit from Walker would be signed.

The Walker bout will be held in the new Madison Square Garden bowl in Long Island city.

'Burgoo King' Is Here For Police Barbecue

Famous Kentucky Dish for Which Derby Winner Was Named, To Be Featured.

By Ralph McGill.

At 7 o'clock this morning J. T. Looney, "the Burgoo King," will be out at Lakewood Park getting his pots and kettles ready for the cooking of 500 gallons of burgoo for the annual police barbecue Wednesday. (If you have a parking ticket it MIGHT be possible to get it torn up by buying a couple of tickets.) Mr. Looney, for whom the Derby winner was named, sat in his hotel in Atlanta last night, a bit worried.

"I've got my colored boy with me who has been helping me make this stuff for 30 years," he said, "and we have three others to peel potatoes and things like that. I think Georgia people will like it. It must be something like your Brunswick stew. (Mr. Looney modestly refused to

"Doe" Prothro, manager of the Memphis Chicks, will have a look at Charley (Bo) Mitchell, star right-hander of the Oglethorpe University baseball team, this afternoon at Pence de Leon park.

Mitchell, who was one of the leading pitchers in the Dixie college league, will pitch to the Chicks in batting practice today. He finishes Oglethorpe this year.

Several scouts, including Zinn Beck, of the Chattanoogs club, have been watching Mitchell with interest. The youngster had one of the best records of any college pitcher in the south and is over six feet tall.

John Paul Jones, the big man from Texas, will meet "Blue Sun" Jennings, Cherokee Indian, tonight at the auditorium in the first feature of a double-main-event card offering Roy (Father) Lumpkin and Tom Marvin as the second attraction.

formed by Poggi that he would be delayed a few days. Tom Marvin was the result.

Marvin is something of a favorite here in reverse order. The fans like to see him wrestle but hope to see him lock here. And when one of the commissioners doubted it, at a ball park bout last summer, Marvin put it on Al Martin, one of the commissioners, and convinced him in a burry.

Marvin and Lumpkin should make up a good match. Both are ready mixers and both keep going with no as real attraction.

The first match is one which the fans are showing a liking for. There were lineups for tickets Monday at both selling points. Jones and Jennings have both been seen here often but they have never met before. Both are strong, about the same weight, height and reach. Jones is more experienced but Jennings is no novice. Jones is confident he will win. In eletter to Weber, after being matched to met Jennings in a town where I have so many friends. I think I can beat him and I want to do it there where the fans have been so loyal to met.

THREE HOMERS POUNDED OUT

Goff, Chapman, Barron Hit for Circuit; Memphis Gets Two.

BY JIMMY JONES.

BY JIMMY JONES.

The rabbit in the Southern league ball was given a revengeful spanking by the Atlanta Crackers yesterday as they came back to Ponce de Leon park smarting from that Nashville affair of Sunday to hammer Harry Kelly from the mound and take the series opener from Doc Prothro's Memphis Chicks, 9 to 3.

Five home runs winged their way into the left fields stands during the afternoon, three of which were propelled by Atlanta batsmen and two by Memphis. And only the coincidence that all of them came with the bases empty kept the score from rundence that all of them came with the bases empty kept the score from running into double digits.

Fern Bell, the Chicks' "Bee" right fielder, started the four-base jamboree by socking one into the republican gallery in the second inning and it seemed to become a fad. Andy Reese clouted another in the fourth, and Climax Blethen, who was doing the chunking for Atlanta, grinned ruefully and mopped his brow. It was a warm afternoon and the Chicks were running up Climax's temperature.

Then to start the Cracker fourth,
Bobby Goff, Atlanta second baseman,

Before Kelly recovered from this blast of Johnny's, the Crackers had two more runs in the same inning. Roy Carlyle singled to center. Buster Chatham, who is doing some great hustling around shortstop for the Crackers, dropped a single into center and when it go. past Hamel, Carlyle scored and Chatham took second. Chatham scored as Gillis tossed out Fenton.

From then on the Chicks never had a look-in. Just give old Climax Blethen a few runs and he's tough to beat.

CLIMAX RIGHT.

The veteran connoisseur of good chewing tobacco kept the Chicks well under control after those two homers and became the third Atlanta pitcher Poggi, who was held by immigration authorities at the Canadian border. It seems that the game little Italian hasn't got his citizenship papers in good shape and is being held until the tangle is straightened out.

Matchmaker Henry Weber, who is behind the show, immediately got on the long-distance phone when informed by Poggi that he would be delayed a few days. Tom Marvin was the result.

No Set-Ups for Your Uncle.

From now on your Uncle Sam, of the U. S. A., has about all the international trouble in sports he cares to tackle. He finds himself facing a varied enemy on a wide front.

In less than two weeks his Davis cup entries have a strong Australian team, headed by the brilliant Crawford, to face at Germantown, Pa. This will be one of the hardest matches of the entire lot, according to Bernard Prentiss, now in charge of the United States team. In the meanwhile Jack Sharkey is warming up for Schmeling, the German, in another test, which will be no United States frolic.

Next week the United States women's golf team moves out against a strong British delegation, led into action by Joyce Wethered, the greatest woman golfer of all time. Miss Wethered has the powerful Enid Wilson, British champion, swinging as second in command. This will be another party where your Uncle Sam can hardly be given anything bet-another party where your Uncle Sam can hardly be given anything ter than an even chance.

The greatest United States strength should be in the Olympic games, now moving into the first trial zones. The squad wearing the red, white and blue will have such stars as Venzke for the 1,500 meters, Spitz for the high jumps, Eastman for the 400 and 800 meters, Sexton for the shot put. Berlinger, Bausch and others for all around events. And this is only a partial list of the talent now hard at work.

The return of bluer skies and warmer days should more than offset the hard blow dealt so many ball clubs by idle days. The reason for this is simple—there are many more clubs by idle days. The reason for this is simple—there are many more clabs playing better ball than 1931 could show when Athletics and Cardinals were moving out into a killing lead. This season we have an open scramble at hand.

In place of three or four good ball towns, we have the Yankees, Senators, Cleveland Indians, Detroit Tigers and Athletics doing well in the American league, with Cubs, Giants, Cardinals, Reds, Braves and Dodgers drawing good crowds in the National. This means at least 11 different camps, which still draw well above the average in two races that are much better balanced for a long pull than any we have had in some years.

Connie Mack still has his chance for Connie Mack still has his chance for another pennant, but his earnest young hired men can't wait much longer, with Senators and Yankees bounding along back of able pitching and hard hitting. Bob Grove has swung around and George Earnshaw is due for a faster pace with better weather at hand.

But most of the ball players you meet are picking New York or Washington. They have sensed a touch of that tired feeling among the Athletics, which comes after three years of success.

For all of that, Mack and his team For all of that, Mack and his leam are not yet ready for the discards. They have too much stuff to be counted out around the middle of May with most of the route still on beyond. They will soon be in striking distance of the leaders, and when this happens there will be a merry chase on to the wire, with Mack, McCarthy and Walter Johnson all using the whin down there will be a merry case on to the wire, with Mack, McCarthy and Walter Johnson all using the whip down the stretch. As Doktor Stalls

TORONTO, Ont., May 16.-(P) W. L. (Young) Stribling, Macon, Ga., heavyweight, was awarded the decision over Joe Doktor, of Buffalo, N. Y., tonight when Doktor was disqualified by Referee Lou Marsh for "stall-ing." The match, slated for 10 rounds, was stopped in the ninth. Stribling weighed 188 pounds, Doktor 192 1-2.

Up until the time of the sudden ending, Stribling was well ahead in every round but the first, which was about even. Doktor appeared determined to stay the limit, and time and again fell into a clinch and held on for seconds on end rally that converted early losses of 1 to 4 points into net gains of somewhat smaller proportions.

In the morning when most leaders made new lows, the market steadied around noon after du Pont's dividend reduction had proved smaller than generally expected. Prices then drifted quietly until midafternoon, when nebulous rumors that constructive developments were afoot in Washington stimulated short covering.
Reports of new restrictions on Reports of new restrictions on short selling were also heard, but promptly denied. Transactions totaled 1,293,100 shares, the largest volume in more than a week.

in more than a week.

Final prices generally were a little under the top of the rally. Chesapeake & Oho, encouraged by its April net operating income, finished one to the good.

American Can, Sears Roebuck, Coca Cola and Westinghouse were up 1 to 2. Senior equities of American Tobacco, International Harvester and Bethlehem Steel lost 2 to 3.

The only visible effect of disturbances at Tokyo was in Japanese bonds and the yen.

ances at Tokyo was in Japanese bonds and the yen.

America's foreign trade figures for April illustrated strikingly the extreme stagnation that has overtaken our commerce with other nations. Exports, with the exception of August. 1914, were the smallest since July. 1911, and at $136,000,000 were not much above the total for that month. The favorable balance for the first third of this year is $71,409,000.

The du Pont dividend was reduced to a $3 annual basis from $4 paid since March, 1929.

Washington dispatches during market hours spoke hopefully of the probable attitude of the house toward the senate tax bill on which debate was continued.

SMALL COTTON CROP

A small cotton crop in Georgia this year was predicted by state agricultural experts Monday who based their predictions on sharply reduced fertilizer sales.

The report for the first four months of 1932 showed about half as much fertilizer was sold as during the same period of 1931, when sales were below normal. G. B. Carreker, chief clerk of the state department of agriculture, said the sales of fertilizer tags for the four months—the heaviest buying pe-riod in the year—represented only riod in the year—represented only 348,799 tons of fertilizer for this year,

This compares with 663,570 tons in 1930 at 1931 period, 880,681 tons in 1930 and 838,013 in 1929.

At the capitol it was said that even though the acreage in cotton this year should be as great as last year, the yield of cotton would be appreciably smaller, due to the decreased use of fertilizer.

Marcus P. McWhorter, statistician of the state department of agriculture, was one of those predicting a smaller yield of cotton in Georgia. He said that the acreage might be greater than expected, in view of the destruction of a large part of the tobacco-crop by blue mold. "But my guess is that the yield will be low," he said.

Sales of fertilizer tags for the first four months of 1932 brought in $104,-639.

els smaller than a year ago. It is becoming more evident daily that no important improvement can be expected in the winter wheat crop and that possibly estimates will have to be further reduced and we believe this will furnish foundation for higher prices even in face of unsatisfactory surroundings. Corn showed relative steadiness from the tatart and made good response to late strength in wheat. the market unaware. Developments at Washington indicate growing recognition of need for non-partisan approach to the pressing problems presented for solution in the current crisis. A further development of this departure would have most profound constructive significance, a view which today's sharp raily sought to express. The market remains sensitive to Washington news which at the moment appears to be shaping more constructively than for some time past. FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Cotton sold off to net losses of 4 to 6 points in the early trading on moderate selling by the south, New Orleans and professional traders, together with some liquidation by outside longs in nearby months. Offerings, however, were readily sbsorbed on and after the call by fixation on the part of domestic and continental spinners, continued buying of near months by spot houses and short covering. However, as the session progressed the trend was reversed and in the afternoon the market scored an advance of about 25 points from the early lows. Final prices were at best of the session. The forecast pointed to generally fair in west and part cloudy with probable thundershowers in the east. We continue to feel purchases on moderate recessions are in order.

ADVANCE $1 A BALE

NEW ORLEANS, May 16.—(P)—
After declining 5 to 6 points in the early trading today the cotton market rallied later on good trade buying and covering and advanced approximately $1 a bale. Reports that Russia was buying war supplies in Europe and a steadier range in stocks were the incentives behind the demand. The market closed at or near the top, showing het advances for the day of 20 points.

The absence of Liverpool cables, that market remaining closed in continuance of the Whitsuntide holidays, caused a quiet opening in the local market. Initial transactions were unchanged to 1 point down. There was a slight rally right after the start but prices encountered a flurry of selling influenced by bearish textile statistics and early weakness in stocks.

Trading became quite active to— HUBBARD BROS.

NEW YORK, May 16.—After a quiet and somewhat lower market on the opening, prices gradually steadled and turned atrong in the late afternoon under short covering which developed a great scarcity of contracts. This buying was induced by reports a few lates a few lates

COTTONSEED PRODUCTS AIDS ARE DISCUSSED

NEW ORLEANS, May 16 .- (P)-Methods for widening the outlet for cottonseed products were discussed here today at the opening session of the National Cottonseed Products were 102,307,000 yards, equivalent to approximately 50 per cent of the month's production in 205,089,000 yards, which was about 10 per cent below that of March, the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants reports. Stocks on hand totaled 302,-216,000 yards, an increase of 16.6 per cent over March 31, and 4.4 per cent greater than at the beginning of the year. Association convention, presided over by P. R. Lamar, of Atlanta, president. Earl S. Haines, of Memphis, execu-tive secretary of the group, told the assembly that "cottonseed as a cash assembly that cottonseed as a casa crop of the south is second only to cotton lint." Invitations to the annual banquet tonight specified informal dress, adding "cotton clothing preferred."

P. R. Lamar, president of the National Cottonseed Products Association, lives at 41 Muscogee avenue, Atlanta. He is president of the Rome (Ga.) Cottonseed Oil Mill.

CONSTRUCTION—April construction contract totals for 37 states east of the Rocky mountains showed a gain of 8 per cent over March in contrast with a loss of 9 per cent between the corresponding two months of 1931, the F. W. Dodge Corporation reports.

minutes' debate it was passed by the required two-thirds majority.

Chief provisions in the bill, indorsed alike by treasury and reserve board officials, would be:

1—Amend the reserve act by making notes representing direct advances by the credit banks of not over nine months maturity, discountable.

2—Amend the reserve act to make collateral trust debentures of the credit banks acceptable security for 15-day borrowings by federal reserve member banks.

Andrew W. Mellon recommended the bill while secretary of the treasury.

CUT PRICES ASSAILED

AT BAKERS' CONVENTION

BILONI, Miss., May 1/s.—(P)—Henry Stude, Chicago, president of the American Bakers' Association, told the opening session of the Southern Bakers' convention here late today that "the whole retail merchandising system has gone on a spree in a ruthless, useless, merciless and profitiess cut price war, which causes bording to tax."

The price of cheap merchandising is impoverished cities," Mr. Stude said. "The only way to do away with depression is for everyone to make a profit."

President G. A. Mattingly, Hattiesburg, delivered his annual talk, and Secretary Thomas C. Hull, Atlantf. J. B. Everidge, Columbus, Ga., treasurer, and Miss Alice M. Dowling, New York, merchandising expert, also spoke.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(UP) Oklahoma's bayonet-enforced oil curtailment act was approved by the United States supreme court today in a suit brought attacking its constia suit brought attacking its consti-tutionality.

The court held that the law, which Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray enforced with the state mi-litia when the court's held that pen-alizing sections of the act were in-valid, was a proper use of the state police power to preserve the state's national resources from waste.

The decision, announced in an opin-

The decision, announced in an opinion by Justice Pierce Butler, finally disposed of any question of the law's validity or of the propriety of the orders issued by the Oklahoma corporation commission. Butler noted, however, that nothing in the ruling was to be interpreted as preventing an attack on future orders of the commission in prorationing production.

Philadelphia Girl, 19, Freed by Kidnapers ported to police tonight that his 19-year-old daughter, Dora, was kidnaped by four negroes last Saturday, held prisoner for 35 hours and released to day after payment of a $300 ransom.

Gerson said he had refrained from communicating with the authorities before his daughter was returned for fear she might be harmed. The kidnapers communicated with him twice, he said, demanding $1.000.

He finally induced them to accept $300, which he paid to one of the men on a street corner today. Two hours later the girl was pushed from an automobile two blocks from her home. Miss Gerson related that the negroes accosted her from an automobile and asked for a street direction. When she paused to answer one clapped a hand over her mouth and dragged her into the automobile, where she was bound and gagged. She said she was imprisoned in a barn "somewhere in the country". said she was imprisoned in a barn "somewhere in the country."

The kidnapers apparently had no knowledge of her identity when they kidnaped her for, she said, they questioned her carefully about herself and her family.

Prints are so delectable this season that they need no trimming or intricate fussiness to set them off. Here you see a perfectly simple frock with shoulder capelets and two very pert bows fashioned entirely of gayly printed georgette. Or, if you like, chiffon, voile, lawn or flat crepe. Even the beginner will find an easy frock to cut and put together, and the results lovely.

The next day Jimmy had rung her up at the office and asked her out to dinner. Esmee had never had dinner with a man. She could not resist that. He had taken her to an expensive restaurant. He had been suave, polite, very, very attentive. Only in the taxi on the way home he had kissed her, and she had been angry, and he had shrugged his shoulders.

She had thought in those days that she could manage him. She had been sure he was in love with her, and the knowledge of having so handsome, so assured and competent a lover had elated her. He had taken her to dinner again, to a play, for a long drive on Sunday to a roadhouse celebrated for shore dinners. He had made her dance, and she had picked up the new steps with remarkable aptitude. With him she had learned to feel a little at ease in restaurants; he had brought into her forlorn life something stirring, vital and gay.

The infant's weight at the age of ten days was the same as at its birth, Dr. Farrar said, but there-after it began to gain and now weighs 20 ounces.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(UP)—oused from its lethargy by stories poignant suffering among unemloyed in great industrial centers, ongress moved nearer today to proding funds for relief of the work-

A democratic steering committee met late in the day and considered a proposal by Senator Robert Wagner, democrat, New York, for a $2,400,-000,000 program, of which $2,100,000,-000 would be apportioned for public and semi-public works and $300,000,-000 for direct unemployment relief by states.

The half-dozen senators who attended the meeting, including Wagner and Democratic Floor Leader Joe T. Robinson. Arkansas, reached no decision on the Wagner proposal. They will meet again tomorrow. Wagner thinks agreement may be reached then; Robinson, more conservative, does not. He estimates, several days.

inson, more conservative, does not. He estimates several days.

The Wagner proposal includes $1.700,000,000 to be lent through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to public and private entities for works of a public or semi-public nature, such as bridges and buildings, and $1,100,000,000 for public works whose desirability is already approved.

It is proposed that the Wagner measure, in whatever form it takes, shall go direct to the senate as an amendment to a Wagner bill already on the senate calendar, providing for the public works fund. This will avoid long delay in committee.

The chief difference between the Wagner proposal and that favored by the administration is that there would be a bond issue to cover the money. The administration proposal is for $300,000,000 to lonans to states for relief: $40,000,000 to assist export of agricultural products, and is for $300,000.000 in loans to states for relief; $40,000,000 to assist export of agricultural products, and $1,160,000,000 to be lent through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for new construction.

The new house group organized to promote unemployment relief was sion held there was no valid ground for his contention.

The ruling was in a case from Mississippi, where S. B. Lawrence protested against paying a tax on income earned in Tennessee.

Mississippi relieved domestic corporations from the tax on income derived from activities outside the state, but the court, in an opinion by Justice Stone, held that there was not shown to be such a discrimination as to render the statute invalid.

There is no constitutional requirement, the court said, that a uniform system of taxation should be applied to individuals and corporations.
